Directions:

The offices of the Department of New Testament Studies are located in the main building of the university. Coming from the city side, please walk through the iron gates and cross the courtyard while keeping to the left. Enter the building through the door which is located under the arcades at the left corner (lettering: „Romanisches Seminar“) and take the stairs up to the second floor. After arriving upstairs, please enter the Catholic Theologic Faculty via the left-hand door. Follow the aisle to the left. The secretariat (room 2.011) is the first office on the left side, the professor’s office (room 2.004) is located further down the aisle. Please walk towards the painting, turn right there and walk through the first door on the left side (you reach a little aisle). The professor’s office is the first room on the left side.
